1st ANNOUNCEMENT

NUNAMED 2022

– a conference on Greenlandic health and medicine

11th NUNAMED Movement in Health

- Culture, health and a good life / Kulturi, peqqissusseq & inuunerissuunerl

NUNAMED is for all researchers and health care persons with an active interest in Greenlandic Health Research and takes place in Nuuk on Sept. 30 – Oct. 2, 2022.

The conference language is Danish/Scandinavian, but workshops in both English, Greenlandic and Danish are planned. A PhD Summer School in English is planned, and we invite presenters of PhD projects from the Summer School and presenters who do not speak Danish or Greenlandic, to present in English.

Fee: 4,000 DKK. For students (PhD students excluded) 1,000 DKK.

Deadline for submission of abstracts: August 15, 2022.

PhD Summerschool: Sep. 27-29, 2022.

A course on a PhD level will be held in association with the conference.

Competition in advance "Præ-Nunamed" is planned in April 2022:

For young researchers living in Denmark. The three best presentations will receive a participation grant for Nunamed.
